++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Showers overnight, then largely dry on Sunday but feeling cold.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers or longer spells of rain moving southwards this evening, before breaking up to showers overnight. Some clear spells developing but remaining breezy and therefore temperatures generally staying above freezing, with only a very localised patchy grass frost expected. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
Rather cloudy during the morning with the odd light shower in places. Some brief brighter or sunnier spells are likely, especially during the afternoon. Feeling cold with brisk northerly winds. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Rain and perhaps some hill snow on Monday, but brighter late in the day. Very windy on Tuesday with rain followed by showers. Continuing cold, windy and unsettled on Wednesday.
